The deadline for submissions is 30th of September 2008

If you are sending material via regular mail, the postmark of the deadline day is sufficient.

HANDLING OF YOUR APPLICATION

Pixelache Festival consists of several programme sections. The planning process of these sections varies a lot. For some sections, the decisions are made during the autumn 08, for others the decisions take place just before the festival. Therefore we are unfortunately not able to give specific information about decision dates. We also apologize in advance for not being able to send feedback to all the applicants individually.
